Abstract: This collection documents the political activities of Ismail Vadi before 1994. It includes his active involvement in the South African Democratic Teachers Union (SADTU) of which he became chairperson in Lenasia, and later National Vice President.

Introduction

Former educationalist turned politician Ismail Vadi donated this collection as a document to his political activities before 1994. Vadi began his political career as a member of the Lenasia Youth League and the Transvaal Indian Congress. His political activities escalated when he was nominated chairperson of the South African Teachers Union (SADTU) in Lenasia, and subsequently the National Vice President of the Union. Vadi also became an executive member of the ANC Lenasia branch, and a member of parliament.

Notes

The collection spans the period when Vadi was mostly actively involved in SADTU, and holds correspondence, statements and memorandums of the Union as well as documentation of interactions with other organisations like COSATU and the UDF.
