Dear Mr. Mohr,

I must thank you for the letter received from the Prime Minister of your country. I did not acknowledge this, and if this is a serious omission I beg your pardon.

I am really writing to you about another matter. I read sometime ago in one of the papers that your Government had set aside a sum of money to assist refugees from South Africa. Now it so happens that the Liberal Party and the Defence & Aid Fund, and I myself personally receive requests for assistance from refugees both in Basutoland and Swaziland. I write now to ask you whether it would be possible to refer these persons to your Government Fund, and if so, how should I set about it?

I enclose a letter to your Prime Minister which I would be grateful if you would forward.

Yours sincerely,
