The Rev. C.B. Brink, Moderator of the Transvaal Dutch Reformed Church, has become doubtful about the need for a conference between European and Non-European church leaders envisaged by the Dutch Reformed Churches to find a firm foundation for better race relations. His doubt has been caused by the statements made by Canon Collins who recently visited South Africa and openly expressed his views on the question of race relations in our country.

Mr. Brink says the Dutch Reformed churches are trying hard to find a firm foundation for better race relations. These churches depend on the sympathy and cooperation of Christian churches, and on this statements should by no means be made the reason for aband-duettists, soloists and reciters oning the idea of the proposed conference. Unless we are very diplomas. these relations. Those bent on such an effort should not be disturbed by statements of those who have a right to express themselves on what they see going on in our country.

Ist 2. Among those who will address the conference are Messrs D. L. Morgan, Resident Commissioner, A. C. du Pont, H. J. E. Dumbrell, the Rev. Fr. Stubbings and Dr. J. M. Nhlapo, Editor of the Bantu World.

There may be doubts as to believe that the proposed conference will make a fundamental difference in our race relations. For a sick country Mashalane Iren. such as ours however, any promising remedy is well worth trying. The proposed conference is one of those remedies. It will be a pity if such a conference is abandoned merely because of what Canon Collins has said.

The following resolutions were passed at a recent C.A.T.U. Conference.

(ii) that while we do not subscribe to the underlying principles of the Bantu Education Act, namely that of envisaging a different type of education for the African, cinfining him to a Bantu comunity instead of allowing him access to a world com-munity, we nevertheless pledge ourselves:

(a) to maintain the stand-ard hitherto attained in African Education,

(b) to spare no effort at raising that standard by individual and collective effort.

In conclusion we have to state that we will strive to bring about better conditions in African Education and gene-

THANKS

Orlando West thanks all friends and relatives for their invaluable contributions, telegrams of sympathy and kind messages during her sad bereavement. Her husband, Mr. William Spango Gada, died at the Baragwanath Hospital on June 9 at the age of 49. He went to school at Rimberley and then took up teaching in Natal, Later he settled in Johannesburg as a shoet maker. A keen sportsman, ce played soccer and tennis and excelled at rugby and cricket. He was a member of the Anglican Church. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Father Wardle and Father Sebelto of the Holy Cross Church, Orlando West. Mr. Gada is survived by the widow and two children.

Thanks a million, Mayibuye!

May I offer you my best congratulations and every good wish for the future on this the first anniversary of Mayibuye. May it continue to serve the interest of the African people with courage; courage to persistently seek the substance instead of the shadow and point the road for the people to travel.

- Mrs. Madie Hall Xuma.

Wishing you a happy birthday and many more prosperous years! You have been a boon to many of us. Through your columns we have followed African social work done in many parts of our country. You have aroused our interest to appreciate other people's efforts and examples. May you continue to give us advice and support. Thanks a million, Mayibuye.

Dear Children,

You have already heard that our six girls who went to the seaside holiday have now returned. They looked well after their vacation. We thank Mrs. Louise Qhina for looking after them so well. We also thank the Transvaal Association of Girls' Clubs and Youth Clubs for giving us so much help in arranging the holiday.

This is the first anniversary issue of our own Mayibuye. How do you like the bright pages and two colours? As our column is accommodated in this wonderful supplement, I feel we should join all other readers in wishing it more readership among the African people, and in particular among the African children. You see our cover picture is of a little baby. How proud you children should be. Let that child grow up with you and serve your people in the best manner possible. All you need do is to make the child (the Mayibuye supplement and him lived his wife Mary. They

> The two people looked at each other in amazement. For some time their minds were full of memories of the good old times they had known. They had worn beautiful clothes. They had eaten good food. They had enjoyed the friendship of distinguished people.- They had possessed many things which made life reasonably happy.

But lo, since disaster struck at their home and they lost everything, these were now things of the past.

First the wife wanted to state a wish and her husband listened nervously: "I wish I could see sausages in a plate," Herman Maluleka (with the first aid kit) and Wilson Alpheus. The patient is Peter Seboko. These scouts belong to the 3rd Lady Selborne Senior Scouts and are doing work for the "First Class" badge. The picture was taken by JBW member Charles Isaac Deem and sent to me by JBW memshe said. This happened at Dan her husband was angry. It was his chance now to state a wish. In his anger he merely wanted to spoil her wish. He said: "I wish those sausages may settle on your nose fer wishing so foolishly." This happened also.

Remember now that two wishes have been expressed and only one chance remained. This last chance was used by the woman. But she was already angry when she spoke.

grateful to you for this.

The schools are open again. By the way this is the last session of the year. At the end of it you will write your examinations. Use all the time you have to study hard. An early start will allow you time for revision later on. Starting late is dangerous. You either confuse your facts or you find you cannot remember which is which. It is like building a house. Slowly does it and your house stands high and firm.

Mayibuye sports are an inspiration to us. With such put on the world map. Arthur Willie Mbata.

I like the Mayibuye supplement. It has an atmosphere of its own and gives the necessary incentive for sport. - Ronnie Ditsebe.

The "Mayibuye" Supplement to The Bantu World is a year old this week. That means, like all infants, the Mayibuye has passed the most critical stage, the teething period. I congratulate The Bantu World, for their The Bantu World for their thoughtful enterprise and wish Mayibuye a prosperous future. - R. D. Molefe.

Mayibuye has added new life work our sports will soon be to what was becoming an increasingly advertising organ. We enjoy settling down at home to read through such weatures as" King of the Ring."-J. R. Rathebe.

Sports World is an improved piece of work especially re-ports from other parts of the country and photos of our boxers. That's why more of my friends buy it. — Andrew Mswazi, boxing manager.

Mayibuye has brought sports fans throughout the country in the know. We were happy to read, among other things, about our boxers from Australia. Tell us more about our Jake Tuli. Music fans are equally grateful to Mayibuye. A happy birthday and tell us more about our champions.

— Gabriel Mogotsi.

Time marches on, but I say Mayibuye marches ahead of time. It has made wonderful discoveries in the theatre world. Some stage talent we would have never have known of has been brought to the eraders without extra charge. Long live Mayibuye and its sports world! — V. M. Mapanya

It has been my fortune to be in Johannsburg just when Mayibuye celebrated its first birthday. The Sports World will fulfil its duty of putting African sports in the limelight as the European press does for its section. Many happy re-turns. — H. P. Ngwenya from Durban.

READERS WISH US HAPPY

May our new popular Supplement of the Bantu World "Mayibuye" grow from strength to strength and never despair its purpose of bringing light to dispel darkness.

May it face the shape of things to come with increasing confidence and oin in hope, not only that prosperity and happiness may attend it. But tha its future life continue to be of usefulness and service to the hungry African Communities. — B. Mav. Mudau.

Heartiest congratulations on Mayibuye first Birthday.

Mayibuye enabled Bantu World readers to have big space where we could write our news. Secondly there is a column known as 'Malitaba's Postbag. This column helps readers in their difficulties.

There are also columns such as School Sports, Sports World, Photo Feature. Mayibuye also increased the Junior Bantu World column which is popular to youth.

Long live Mayibuye to be read by sons and daguhters of Africa. Forward Mayibuye we are holding thumbs up for you.—Stephen S. Ndaba.

I have known friends and they have known me through Mayibuye. Iyabuya. - Esther Bacela.

I've followed the Bantu World for many years. Mayi-buye is unrivalled in promoting our sports. Carry on the fine work Mayibuye.

—John Mokuena.

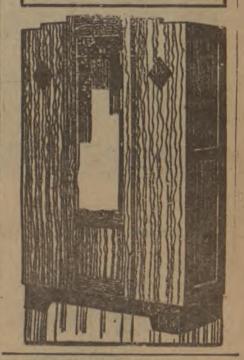

Hearty congratulations for completing a year of great success. Give more years of such wonderful service. Mayibuye is informative, entertaining and educative. As a family man, sportsman and school teacher I find no equal for it. The inclusion of School Sports has been a specially welcome feature. Mayibuye as the first born of The Bantu World has great responsibilities. The first | FURNITURE MANUFACTURERS year has brought gratifying results. - France Flaam Ntsie.

I understand there's no third class division in the Transvaal Junior Certificate pass list: why is this so? What is the aggregate mark required for a first and secondclass pass? Why are people who have passed this particular J.C. regarded as holding a certificate inferior to that held by candidates who wrote the University J.C.?—S. M. S., Johannesburg.

The Transvaal provides a first-class pass division as well as the ordinary "pass" division which is what other J.C.s call 2nd. and 3rd class. Any principal of a secondary school in the Transvaal will give you full information on the Transvaal J.C. Mrs. Peggie Ntuli told me she has been missing her husband a great deal. With Jake away, there's been no one to Jake's dance since Jake first left for England from Palmietfontein in 1952.

> "After all Jake was here only for a short time," she said, Peggie has not been working since her husband won the Empire flyweight championship. The reason is that she was asked to leave working by her employer. He said Peggie could afford to do without work because her husband was well off.

Peggie had been working at this factory for a long time. News soon went round that her husband was the great boxer Jake Tuli although she was working under her maiden

When we called at Mrs. Tuli's Orlando home, young John was playing his favourite game-none other than golf. Like all other children he looked unconcerned about the long trip that he's going to undertake. So was Veronica. She said to me in Afrikaans: "We are going to see Daddy." That's all they keep on reminding their mother.

Jake once told me that he does not want his son John to

Although Veronica and John speak Afrikaans fluently, they also understand a bit of English and Zulu. Mrs. Ntuli is also more at home in Afrikaans and so is the whole family. She told me that she hopes that her children will have some Coloured children to play with in London.

Peggle is not sure when they will be coming back to South Africa. She's leaving that to her husband.

With all the fuss being made about her husband, Peggie has never seen Jake fight either as an amateur or professional although she follows his fight programme keenly. She is too nervous to be at the ring-side. But she agrees that she may be compelled to do so overseas.

"I'll miss my family a great deal especially my parents but I cannot help it as I must join my husband," said Mrs.
