Dear Quintin,

Many thanks for your letter. It was good to hear from you. I am promising myself a visit to Johannesburg 'one of these days' to get a little more au fait with developments in the Union.

You must have your hands very full these days.

We greatly enjoyed seeing RJ up here, and hope the results of his visit will be good & far-reaching.

Re Regional Correspondent, I didn't mean to aspire to this responsible post, & knew Gore-Brown was your Regional Correspondent. I only agreed that if there were any matters up here about which I was competent to write & which I thought should be brought to your notice I would try to send on information to you.

We're rather badly understaffed at the moment, so there's little time for lifting one's head up & having a look at the whole picture of whats happening & whether we're shaping!

We much appreciate the constant information & spur that the IRR news & publications give to us all.

All power to your elbow.

Yours as ever
 George Remy

Dear

Thanks so much for the 7th Annual Report of the United Mission which I read with considerable interest. You do a great work and I am sorry to see that Mrs. Hay has left you permanently. As you know, the Institute is trying to do similar work here.

I do hope that when you come to Johannesburg you will let us know. My life, with R.J.'s resignation is hectic and I do not know whether I am coming or going. R.J. mentioned that you would be willing to act as our Regional correspondent in Northern Rhodesia, but we have Sir Stewart Gore-Browne in that capacity. But I will talk it over with R.J. again and see what he had in mind. It would be good to have you associated with the Institute.

Sorry that this is such a short note but I am over my ears in work and go off to Cape Town shortly. The Annual Report is just complete but work never has an end.

With best wishes and if there is any way you think the Institute can be helpful please let me know.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Gluckman,

Thank you for your letter of 21st April regarding Mr. Rheinallt Jones' "Director's Letter" on South West Africa. I am afraid that there appears to have been a misunderstanding on both sides. I shall bring your letter to the notice of the General Purposes Committee for their information.

I hope that when Mr. Rheinallt Jones visits the Rhodesias during the next few months he will get an opportunity of discussing things with you generally.

Dear Mr. Whyte,

I have referred again to the minutes of the meeting of the General Purposes Committee of March 18th, and see that in my last letter I did not make my position clear about the letter to members written by Mr. Rheinallt-Jones commenting on the U.N.O. decisions on South Africa.

What I meant to say was that the letter appeared to me to be an attempt to palliate the evils of the colour bar and to suggest that South Africa did not deserve ^{the} condemnation passed on it by most of the states of the World.

I consider that this, like the failure of the Institute to take a strong line on the Indian Bill, must weaken its standing.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Whyte,

Thank you for ^abatch of Agenda and Reports, and also for letter about opening a branch of the Institute here.

There are two matters to which I wish to refer :-

1) The Minutes of the recent meeting of the General Purposes Committee do not reflect correctly what I wrote to the Director about his newsletter in January.

I did not say that he appeared to agree with the colour bar policy of the Union, but that he appeared to be defending it, and that I considered this a dangerous thing.

2) I must make clear that while I was corresponding with Mr. Rheinallt-Jones about the possibility of opening a branch of the Institute here that I intended to suggest that we in N. Rhodesia should attempt to raise the funds to finance it. I understood clearly that the Institute itself would not have the funds. I therefore proposed that I should consult with the Bishop of N. Rhodesia and Sir Stewart Gore-Brown about the possibility of getting money from the Government and other bodies to open such a branch.

Dear Dr. Gluckman,

Following up the correspondence and discussions you have had with Mr. Rheinallt Jones about the appointment of a regional representative in Northern Rhodesia, I write to say that the financial position of the Institute is such that it cannot undertake any more commitments at present. It therefore cannot consider the appointment of a regional representative in Northern Rhodesia.

Dear Mr. Rheinallt Jones,

Thank you for your letter of the 10th March.

I quite understand that it is an unsuitable moment to start a branch here, and in addition I shall probably be leaving the Institute next October and will not be able to do anything about it.

I have noticed in recent newsletters that you have taken stronger views on the Government's re-action to the present situation.

Dear Gluckman,

You will have seen from the minutes of the G.P.C. that I shall be away from the Institute for a year, if not altogether, from 1st May; also that the Institute is having a difficult time financially at the moment. In the circumstances I think it would be better to hold over any action that would involve placing any additional burden either on the staff or on the finances of the Institute.

I am placing your letter regarding views expressed by me before the G.P.C. I am sorry you disagree with me. I have, I feel, pressed home the lesson of U.N.O. but I cannot agree that U.N.O.'s treatment of South Africa was wise or right. My view is also held by the Manchester Guardian.

My dear Gluckman,

Many thanks for your various letters. I am sorry that I did not give you just what you wanted in the way of an article, but I couldn't outline what the Institute's plans are to be for work in N. Rhodesia because the financial crisis through which the Institute is going, has made it necessary to call a halt. Our fund raiser was not a success and we are worse off than if we hadn't appointed him. Moreover, I do think our policy should be to encourage the development of an institute from within the territory or territories. Anyway, I will bring your letter of the 17 January before the General Purposes Committee when it meets this month. The Executive couldn't finish its business.

Thank you for being so willing to help with the Inter-Territorial conference. I hope to get at the preliminary plans at once and I will ask for your advice.

Dear Mr.Rheinallt-Jones,

I have to thank you for two letters, dated the 6th and 9th January, and one undated postcard. I am sorry to have kept bothering you about the article but I know you would like it to go out as soon as possible and we are anxious to go to press. In your postcard you say that the article has been sent but it has not arrived here. If you could let me have it by the end of the month that would be quite satisfactory; I quite appreciate that you would like it discussed by the Council at Cape Town.

In your letter of the 9th January you ask for my views on the suggestions made in your article. I cannot of course give them since I have not yet seen the article, but you summarise your main points so that I can perhaps answer them. I do not know what you can do about the financial problem; we ourselves are short of funds and I cannot think where your Institute is likely to get any where we have failed, but in principle I think that your idea of having a branch in each of the Territories is the best. Nyasaland and the two Rhodesias are in practice widely separated and have very different problems. I suppose Ibbotson could give you the best advice on how things might be developed in Southern Rhodesia. As far as Northern Rhodesia is concerned, I think you would be best advised to tackle the problem through the three African Representatives in the Legislative Council. If the Executive agrees perhaps we might have a meeting of them and myself during the next session of Legislative Council when we will all be in Lusaka and there need be no cost. We can then discuss the whole problem and put our views to the General Purposes Committee.

I am sorry to learn from your letter of the 6th January that you have been ill, and hope you are now better. Incidentally, you mention in it that you sent me a telegram, but this did not arrive.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Gluckman,

I have before me your letter of the 17th October regarding the Institute's activities in the Rhodesias and Nyassaland. I have been moving about so much that I have been quite unable to keep pace with correspondence. Please excuse the delay.

You will have seen from the article I wrote for you that it has been suggested that the Institute should establish branches (as distinct from having "representatives") in the three territories, and that our view here is that it would be better to have independent institutes or one independent institute for the three territories. Unfortunately we are ourselves so hard up for funds at this moment that we can do nothing to help any such development financially.

It would be helpful to have your views, more particularly as to the relation of any such institute to your Institute, and the way in which the proposed institute could be most helpful.

If you reply soon, please address me C/o. City Club, Queen Victoria Street, so that I may have your reply in time for the Executive meetings in Cape Town.

I can't do anything about it till Renee gets back and then it all depends on how he can cope. It is rather low on his list of priorities - so information from you people would be very helpful for us to work on.

The Provincial Commissioner at Nyakim Hill asked to see me when I was there & told me that he is very much concerned over the signs of increasing racial tensions in N. R. Some years ago he tried to form a joint council at one of the centres when he was a District Commissioner but was moved on before it could be got going properly. But he is very doubtful of the practicality of joint councils in the present stage of the African's development in N.R. He is anxious however to see something done to develop educate both Europeans & Africans. We discussed the matter & I told him how the Institute works. He was very much interested - particularly in the study circles. He will be retiring early in 1949 & after a period of ^{leave +} rest he will be returning to N.R. He would like work to augment his pension but assured me that this was not in any way the reason he approached me. I think he would be a very good man. He looks quite young & is evidently genuinely interested in social welfare as well as in race relations generally.

Perhaps we can collaborate in preparing a letter to him explaining more fully than I could do the ways in which the Institute could help & sending him literature. I think he would make a good representative & N.R. needs the active help of the Institute.

Will be home on the 21st.

I hope you are having a successful time in J.R.

Dear R. J.,

I am very interested in what you say about the possibility with Mr. Clough. We can put the subject on the agenda for the discussion I hope to have with you sometime soon. I am only afraid of increasing Regional responsibility which may become too heavy for Head Office and of course, we do have Goffe Browne in Northern Rhodesia.

Clare wrote me a letter which amongst other things was mentioned that nothing was happening about your present. I discussed the matter with the Finance Committee and they feel that they would like to invest the funds available until such time as they know definitely what your plans will be. They will then like to give you the present of course, in consultation. They don't just want to give you a cheque; they would much rather give you something concrete and very beautiful.

I hope that Clare will accept this as an acknowledgement of her letter of the 12th November, from Bryanston.

Dear Sir Stewart,

Annual Report.

We are now starting to assemble material for the Institute's Annual Report, to be submitted to the Council at its meeting in January 1950.

We would very much like to include brief statements on the position regarding race relations in other parts of Africa. Would you be kind enough to help us? We should like to have a short article on any significant developments which have taken place during the past year in Northern Rhodesia and which are likely to be of interest to us in the Union. We want this article to occupy about one, and not more than two pages in our Annual Report (between 300 and 800 words); and, as it is necessary to go to press very shortly, we should like to have the article by 5th October at the very latest.

Will you please help us in this way? We should be most appreciative.
